U.S. OPEN SCHEDULE

Member, United States
Olympic & Paralympic Committee

Welcome to the 2026 U.S. Open Squash Championships Powered by Comcast Business, the fifth held here at the world-class Arlen Specter US Squash Center.

This is my first U.S. Open, and it has been my privilege to learn more about this prestigious event's cherished history dating back to 1954. The U.S. Open's impact on squash both nationally and internationally cannot be understated. I'm particularly proud that the U.S. Open was the first major squash event to offer prize money parity in 2013.

This year, we welcome the Professional Squash Association back for another high-caliber broadcast powered by Comcast Business' best-in-class technology. National viewers will once again be able to tune into the semifinals and finals on NBC Universal's Peacock streaming platform.

The generous support of our sponsors, patrons, members and fans makes an event of this caliber possible. I offer my deepest gratitude and look forward to being in community with so many of you throughout the week. We would especially like to thank Comcast Business for powering the 2026 U.S. Open and offering year-round support for US Squash and the Specter Center.

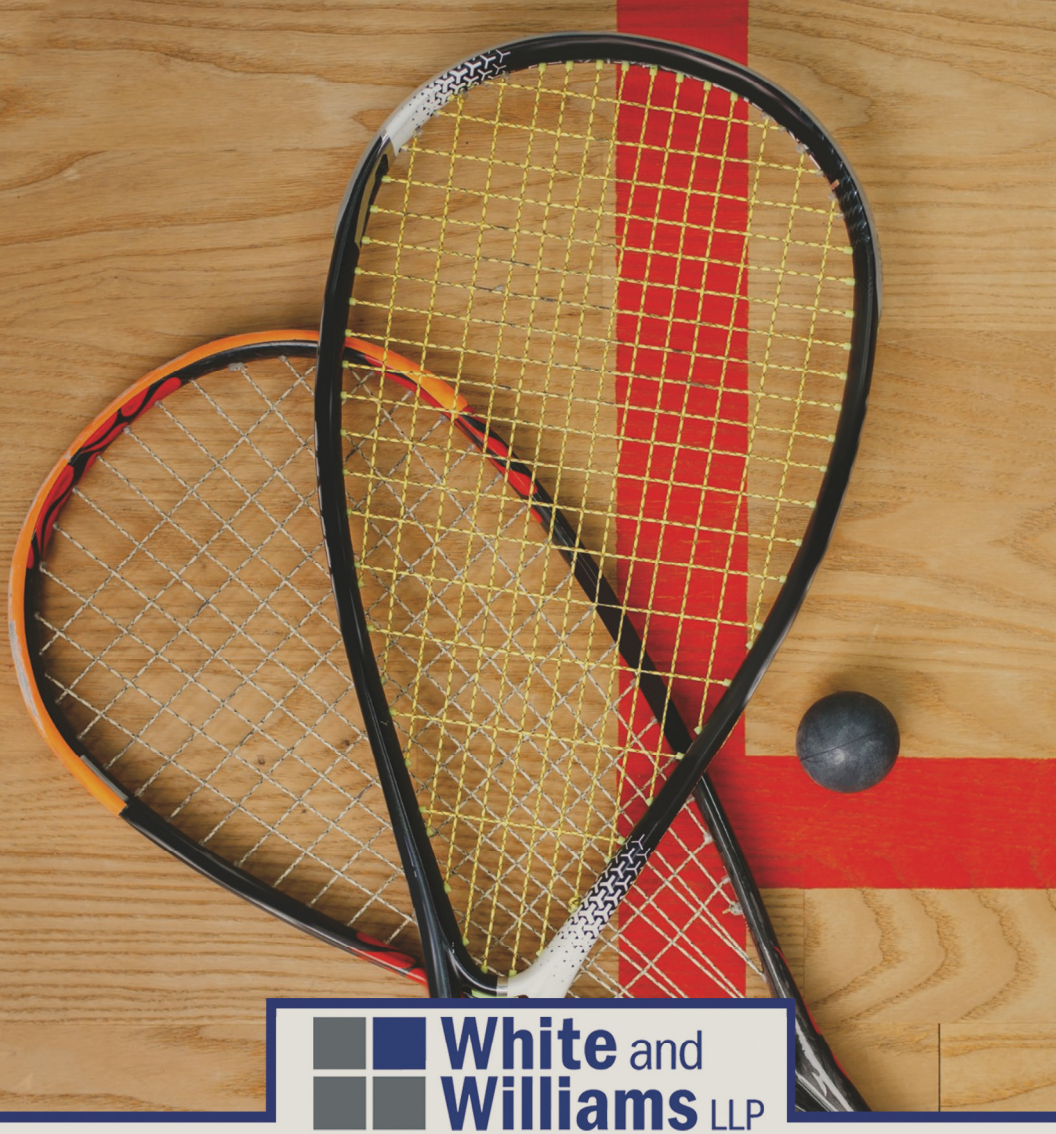

Finally, I hope you share my excitement in hosting the best athletes in the world, many of whom we will see back on American soil for the LA28 Olympic Games. I have no doubt these competitors will earn our respect and admiration with their inspiring performances, pure grit and consistent displays of sportsmanship.

We hope you enjoy all the U.S. Open has to offer and again wish to express our thanks to all of you.

With gratitude,

Mollie M. Samaan

Squash is a great sport! Everyone playing Squash, regardless of their standard should be able to play long rallies, improve their fitness and skill and have fun on court just like advanced players. It's very important to 'Use The Right Ball' if you want to have a good game. Your level should determine which ball is the most suitable for you.
